

MARTELL BioCare is a new line of sustainable elastics made from 100% degradable and biodegradable fibers capable of disintegrating faster than other synthetic fibers.

Our main objective is to offer a last generation elastics, produced in an ethical way, respectful with the environment and that meets the highest requirement that the sustainable textile sector demands.

Gentle on the skin. Endowed with sustainable microfibers and created both for the manufacture of technical underwear and for the most exquisite and delicate lingerie.

Strong and resistant. Weave carefully studied and woven to give them strength and resistance while providing comfort.

Long lasting. Their high disintegration capacity does not make them less durable, because the threads and fibers that compose them are enriched with an additive that accelerates the decomposition of their microfibers at the end of their long useful life.

Technically perfect. Designed to reduce the impact on the planet's ecosystem, maintaining the highest quality, durability and aesthetics.

LET'S CONSIDER

Together we can help to protect our oceans and ecosystems.

 MARTELL helps you to be an active part of a sustainable solution for our planet.