
Lanificio Becagli proudly announces that have recently achieved the GRS certification.

The Global Recycle Standard certification provide certification of recycled materials and the track of them trought the finished fabric.

The GRS certification also includes additional social, enviromental and chemical processing requirements.

As a first stage have been certified the woven fabrics that are produced with recycled wool till the finished product, the knit fabrics produced with recycled wool fibers have been certified till the yarn stage,by the end of May they will be certified to the finished fabric stage too.

Calamai Technical Fabrics, today a divison of Lanificio Becagli, has been developing in it's laboratory and producing reclaimed wool fabrics since 1878 in Prato, and have been since then innovative leader in the production of recycled wool fabrics.

Today most of well know brands ,in outdoor and fashion business that are taking care of sustainability ,are using Calamai /Becagli recycled fabrics.
